MEMBERSHIP / TERMS & CONDITIONS / ACCOUNT AGREEMENT

This is the Agreement between you, the member, and Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union ("Credit Union"), regarding your accounts with the Credit Union. By establishing an account with the Credit Union, you agree that this Agreement is a binding contract between you and the Credit Union.

You should retain a copy of the agreement and feel free to call the Credit Union if you have any questions. In addition to your agreement with the terms and conditions set forth in this document, by establishing an account with the Credit Union you acknowledge receipt of and agree to the various terms separately provided to you with regard to Truth in Savings and Availability of Funds.

This Agreement and those documents listed above include certain disclosures required under the Truth-In-Savings Act and National Credit Union Administration and Federal Reserve Board regulations and commentary, the Funds Availability Act (Regulation CC), and Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A. On April 24, 2020, the Board of Governors amended Regulation D to delete the six-per-month limit on convenient transfers from "savings deposits." Therefore, this Credit Union no longer monitors the former six-per-month limit on transfers and, we do not charge a fee if you go over the former limit of six-per-month transfers on your "savings deposits".

The various terms and conditions set forth in those documents are incorporated into this Agreement by reference. You also agree to abide by the Bylaws of the Credit Union.

If any provision of this document is found to be unenforceable according to its terms, all remaining provisions will continue in full force and effect.

As used in this document the words "we," "our," and "us" mean the financial institution and the words "you" and "your" mean the account holder(s) and anyone else with the authority to deposit, withdraw, or exercise control over the funds in the account. The headings in this document are for convenience or reference only and will not govern the interpretation of the provisions. Unless it would be inconsistent to do so, words and phrases used in this document should be construed so the singular includes the plural and the plural includes the singular.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership Eligibility. To become a member of the Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union, a person must be associated with one of the groups specified in "Membership Eligibility" on our website at <https://www.fideliscu.org/About-Us-Belong> and meet the criteria defined by the National Credit Union Association (NCUA) as specified by us. Family members of current members including anyone related by blood, marriage, legal guardian relationship, domestic partnership or adoption and foster children.

Please review our Membership eligibility on Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union website, or speak with one of our service representatives to determine if you are eligible to join. Only members in good standing may receive the benefits and services of the Credit Union.

Becoming a Member. To become a member of the Credit Union, you must open a Share Savings account by depositing $25.00 into your share account. The Par Value of One Share of this Credit Union is $25.00.

Credit Information. You authorize the Credit Union to investigate your credit standing when opening, or reviewing any Loan or Deposit Account. We may report information about your individual loan account(s) to credit bureaus. Late payments, missed payments, or other defaults on your loan account(s) may be reflected in your credit report. You also authorize the Credit Union to disclose information regarding your Account to credit bureaus and creditors who inquire about your credit standing, as well as report negative information to credit bureaus.

Deposits Generally. After you have established your Account, you may make additional deposits into that account, or establish other types of accounts as described herein, at any time and in any amount. Your accounts are not transferable except on the Credit Union's books and records. We may establish minimum amounts for deposits in your Account or any other accounts you have with the credit union.

We will give only provisional credit until collection is final for any items other than cash, we accept for deposit (including items drawn "on us"). Actual credit for deposits of, or payable in, foreign currency will be at the exchange rate in effect on final collection in U.S. dollars. We are not responsible for transactions by mail or outside depository until we actually record them. We will treat and record all transactions received after our "daily cutoff time" on a business day we are open, or received on a day we are not open for business, as if initiated on the next business day that we are open.

You can make deposits in person or by mail. At the present time, you can arrange to have one or more of the following deposits made directly to your accounts: (1) payroll deduction deposits, (2) net pay deposits, (3) Social Security deposits, (4) pension plan deposits, (5) stock dividends or (6) other miscellaneous deposits.

If you have arranged to have direct electronic fund transfer deposits made to your account, you can call us at (303) 424-5037 to find out whether or not the deposit has been made. In addition, you will receive an account statement showing all such direct deposits at least monthly. Your account statements will be admissible as evidence of the electronic fund transfer deposit or other transaction they represent in any action in a court of law.

All deposits into any credit union account are subject to proof and verification. If you deposit a check, draft or other non-cash item, we have the right to clear it before we make the money available to you subject to applicable federal regulations. If there are special fees for collecting your deposit, you promise to pay them (see the Truth in Savings Fee Schedule for a list of fees). We may deduct such fees directly from your account. If we feel there is a reason to do so, we may refuse, limit or return any deposit. We have the right to refuse to accept any deposit and we specifically reserve the right to refuse to accept checks for deposit that have more than one endorsement. We reserve the right not to pay interest on amounts subject to garnishment, levy or other legal process; and we reserve the right not to pay interest on any deposit that is returned to us unpaid by the financial institution on which it is drawn (even if that means a reversal of credited interest).

All negotiable instruments presented for deposit must be in a format that can be processed and/or photographed. The Credit Union may refuse to accept any check or draft that does not meet this requirement. All endorsements place on the reverse side of any check or draft which you deposit to your account must be placed so that they are on the left side of the item when looking at it from the front and must be placed so they do not go beyond an area located 1 and ½ inches from the left edge of the item when looking at it from the front. The Credit Union may refuse to accept any item that does not meet this requirement, and, if the credit union does accept it, you agree that you are completely responsible for any loss we incur which is premised on an endorsement not meeting this requirement, including any court costs and reasonable attorney fees. You warrant that all endorsements on any check or other negotiable instrument deposited into an account is authentic and without recourse.

Withdrawing Money from Your Account. As long as you have money in your Account, and subject to any applicable state or federal laws and regulations, available funds can be withdrawn from your account by written draft or any other method approved by the Credit Union. If checking drafts are not ordered through the Credit Union, the Credit Union will assess a fee whenever problems in clearing such drafts in an automated fashion arise. When you order checking drafts through the Credit Union, the Credit Union will charge your account for the costs of said checking drafts, which costs vary depending on the style of drafts ordered.

Transaction Limitations. Please refer to the Truth-in-Savings Disclosure for account transaction limitations.

Withdrawals. Unless clearly indicated otherwise on the account records, any of you, acting alone, who signs to open the account or has authority to make withdrawals may withdraw or transfer all or any part of the account balance at any time. Each of you (until we receive written notice to the contrary) authorizes each other person who signs or has authority to make withdrawals to endorse any item payable to you or your order for deposit to this account or any other transaction with us. You agree that, as to any item that we have no opportunity to examine the signatures, such as an electronic check conversion transaction defined in the Electronic Fund Transfers regulation, you waive any requirement of multiple signatures for withdrawal. We may charge your account for a check even though payment was made before the date of the check, unless we have received written notice of the postdating in time to have a reasonable opportunity to act.

We may refuse any withdrawal or transfer request which you attempt on forms not approved by us, by any method we do not specifically permit, which is greater in number than the frequency permitted, or which is for an amount greater or less than any withdrawal limitations. Even if we honor a nonconforming request, we may treat continued abuse of the stated limitations (if any) as your act of closing the account. We will use the date the transaction is completed by us (as opposed to the date you initiate it) to apply the frequency limitations. The fact that we may honor withdrawal requests that overdraw the available account balance does not obligate us to do so later. You agree that we may charge fees for overdrafts and use subsequent deposits, including direct deposits of social security or other government benefits, to cover such overdrafts and overdraft fees. If we are presented with an item drawn against your account that would be a "substitute check," as defined by law, but for an error or defect in the item introduced in the substitute check creation process, you agree that we may pay such item. See the funds availability policy disclosure for information about when you can withdraw funds you deposit. For those accounts for which our funds availability policy disclosure does not apply, you can ask us when you make a deposit when those funds will be available for withdrawal.

Acceptance of Fees and Charges. Any Account may be subject to service charges in accordance with the fee schedule adopted by the Credit Union from time to time. You should refer to the Fee Schedule for a list of fees. These fees may be changed at our discretion. We will provide you notice of such changes in accordance with law.

Ownership Of Account And Beneficiary Designation. These rules apply to this account depending on the form of ownership and beneficiary designation, if any, specified on the account records. We make no representations as to the appropriateness or effect of the ownership and beneficiary designations, except as they determine to whom we pay the account funds.

Individual Account. An account in the name of one person.

Joint Accounts (Survivorship Accounts). If two or more parties have signed an application, you are creating, and intend to create, a "joint tenancy with rights of survivorship." That is, you as the owners of the account agree with yourselves and the Credit Union that all sums paid in shares or other deposits (as applicable), together with all accumulations, prior to now or hereafter, less setoffs as allowed by law for any sums due the Credit Union by any party, shall be owned by all of you jointly with full right of survivorship, and shall be subject to withdrawal or receipt by any of you in whole or in part. Payment to any of you or the survivor(s) of you, or your personal representatives, administrators or assigns of the last survivor(s) of you, shall be valid and discharge the Credit Union from any liability for such payment and amount. Each signer appoints each other signer to be his or her irrevocable attorney: to make deposits to the account; to endorse, for cash or deposit, any checks or other items whether payable to one of the signers alone or with others; and to receive and receipt for all funds all without obligation to us to inquire into the source or application of funds. To induce us to act thereunder, each person signing the application jointly and singly agrees to hold the Credit Union harmless and indemnify us from loss, cost, and damage in all respects in connection with any of the foregoing, including court costs and attorney's fees, except as may be limited by applicable law. Any or all of the joint owners may pledge all or part of the shares or deposits in the account as collateral for security on a loan(s) to this Credit Union. No authority or obligation of the Credit Union may be changed or terminated by one or more of the joint owners without prior written notice to the Credit Union, and no such change or termination shall affect transactions already made. Further, each joint owner is subject to the terms and disclosures of this Agreement, and hereby acknowledges receipt thereof. With the exception of Share Draft and Certificate Accounts or as otherwise prohibited by law, any joint owner on an account is also a joint owner on all sub-accounts listed under that account number.

Pay-On-Death (POD)/Trust Account Designation. A Payable on Death (POD) account or trust account designation is an instruction to the Credit Union that a single or multiple party account so designated is payable to the owner(s) during his, her or their lifetimes and, when the last account owner dies, payable to any named and surviving POD or trust beneficiary/payee. The owners of these account types may change the beneficiaries, change the account types, and/or withdraw any or all of the account funds at any time. Accounts payable to more than one surviving beneficiary/payee are owned in equal shares by those beneficiaries, without right of survivorship. The Credit Union is not obligated to notify any beneficiary/payee of the existence of any account or the vesting of the beneficiary/payee's interest in any account, except as otherwise provided by law.

Beneficiaries cannot withdraw unless: (1) all persons creating the account die, (2) the beneficiary is then living, and (3) we have not been given written notice of a claim under a will. If two or more beneficiaries are named and survive the death of all persons creating the account, beneficiaries will own this account in equal share, without right of survivorship. The person(s) creating either of these account types may: (1) change beneficiaries, (2) change account types, and (3) withdraw all or part of the account funds at any time.

Custodial Accounts for Minors. Any custodial accounts for minors are subject to the terms and conditions set forth in the Colorado Uniform Transfer to Minors Act. It is your responsibility to know and abide by any legal effects related to this type of account. Other Accounts for Minors. We may require any account established by a minor to be a multiple party account with an owner who has reached the age of majority under Colorado and who shall be jointly and severally liable to us for any returned item, overdraft, or unpaid charges or amounts on such account. We may pay funds directly to a minor without regard to his or her minority. Unless a guardian or parent is an account owner, the guardian or parent shall not have any account access rights. We have no duty to inquire about the use or purpose of any transaction. We will change the account status after the minor reaches the age of majority.

Custodial Accounts for Minors Non-Sufficient Funds Fees (NSF). We will charge you a fee each time a payment is made on this account and that payment is returned for Non-Sufficient Funds, and each time that same payment is presented for payment with non-sufficient funds available to cover the payment, regardless of who initiates the re-presentation. The payment could be initiated by us or by you, or by the financial institution on whom the payment is initiated. So, you could be charged multiple times a Non-Sufficient Funds Fee for the same check or payment, or that same item is re-negotiated with insufficient funds available to cover that check or payment. Please see our Fee Schedule for our current fees.

Power of Attorney. If you appoint an agent as your Attorney-in-Fact with a Power of Attorney document and we accept the documentation presented for such an appointment, we may accept such an authorization for transactions without further communication to you. Unless your Power of Attorney document specifically prevents you from entering into transactions, we may accept either your personal transactions and/or those authorized by your appointed "Agent".

Payment of Share Drafts after Death. The Credit Union may, after the date of your death, pay share drafts drawn before death unless ordered to stop payment by the Personal Representative or other appropriate person claiming an interest in the account.

Accounts for Trusts

Members who maintain a minimum $25.00 membership share in the Credit Union can open a separate membership account for a Revocable Living Trust, provided at least one of the Settlor-Trustees of that Trust is a member of the credit union in his or her own right and the Trust designates a living beneficiary. In the event that a Trust account is opened and the sole beneficiary dies, then unless the Settlor designates another beneficiary and informs the Credit Union, the Trust account will be terminated. The following types of financial products and services will be available to Trusts:

Regular Share/Savings Account Share Certificate

To the extent applicable and not superseded by this section, the terms and conditions governing those types of accounts and services for individuals govern accounts and services provided to Trusts.

In order to open an account for a Trust, you agree to provide such documentation as is required by the Credit Union with regard to the Trust, including, but not necessarily limited to, the Trust document itself and/or an Abstract of Trust prepared by the attorney who drafted the Trust.

The Credit Union reserves the right to refuse membership to a Trust when it is not drafted in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Colorado.

If you have opened an account for a Trust, you as Trustee(s) understand and agree that the Credit Union may distribute funds pursuant to the terms of the most recently dated Trust Agreement on file at the Credit Union, and you, on behalf of the Trust, all beneficiaries of the Trust, and all Successor Trustees forever indemnify and hold the credit union harmless for distributions made pursuant to that Trust made in good faith in the absence of gross negligence on the part of the Credit Union. You further agree that it is your responsibility to notify the Credit Union when a Trust for which an account has been opened has been revoked, rescinded, revised, or in any way modified.

SAME BUSINESS SERVICES AS AVAILABLE TO INDIVIDUAL ACCOUNTS

Accounts for Corporations and Other Organizations. To the extent applicable and not superseded herein, the terms and conditions governing individual accounts and services govern accounts and services provided to businesses and organizations. Our regular consumer disclosures for Electronic Fund Transfers (EFT), Privacy Act and Funds Availability apply the same to all business accounts.

You understand and agree that the Credit Union may distribute funds pursuant to the terms of the most recently dated Resolution on file at the Credit Union, and the organization, all of its organizers, shareholders, partners, and/or members forever indemnify and hold the credit union harmless for distributions made in good faith pursuant to that Resolution. You further agree that it is your responsibility to notify the Credit Union when the terms of that Resolution have been revoked, rescinded, revised, or in any way modified.

You agree that you must have the legal authority to open this type of account and you shall produce the necessary documents to establish your authority to open such an account. We may require the governing body of the entirety opening the account to give us a separate authorization instructing us as to who is authorized to open, make transactions and close this type of account. You must notify us of any changes in such authorization.

SPECIAL TERMS REGARDING SHARE DRAFT ACCOUNTS

Deposits Generally. Once you have established your Share Draft Account (at some Credit Unions, these are called checking accounts), you may make additional deposits into those accounts at any time and in any amount subject to the terms of this Agreement. The above terms regarding "deposits generally" also apply to Share Draft Accounts, except as they may be modified by this section. All drafts drawn on your Share Draft Account may be returned by us unpaid for any reason that drafts are normally returned, such as, for example, insufficient funds, uncollected funds, or litigation.

Non-Sufficient Funds Fees (NSF). We will charge you a fee each time a payment is made on this account and that payment is returned for Non-Sufficient Funds, and each time that same payment is presented for payment with non-sufficient funds available to cover the payment, regardless of who initiates the re-presentation. The payment could be initiated by us or by you, or by the financial institution on whom the payment is initiated. So, you could be charged multiple times a Non-Sufficient Funds Fee for the same check or payment, or that same item is re-negotiated with insufficient funds available to cover that check or payment. You should refer to our Fee Schedule for a list of fees.

Minimum Balance. There is no minimum deposit required to open a Regular Share Draft (Regular Checking) Account. Please see the Truth In Savings disclosure and Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union Rate Sheet for more information.

Withdrawing Money from Your Share Draft Account. As long as you have money in your Share Draft Account, and subject to any applicable state or federal laws and regulations, available funds can be withdrawn from your account by written draft or any other method approved by the Credit Union. Share drafts must generally be ordered through the Credit Union. If share drafts are not ordered through the Credit Union, the Credit Union will assess a fee whenever problems in clearing such drafts in an automated fashion arise. When you order share drafts through the Credit Union, the Credit Union will charge your account for the costs of said share drafts, which costs vary depending on the style of drafts ordered. You may select drafts from the current styles available.

Payment of Share Drafts. The Credit Union is under no obligation to pay a share draft which is more than 6 months old. Except for negligence, the Credit Union is not liable for any action it takes regarding the payment or non-payment of a draft.

Funds Availability. Funds from deposits you make into your Share Draft Account may not always be immediately available. Refer to our Funds Availability disclosure for more details.

Fees. As with all other accounts, your Share Draft account may be subject to service charges in accordance with the fee schedule adopted by the Credit Union from time to time. You should refer to our Fee Schedule for a list of fees. These fees may be changed at our discretion.

Truncated Drafts; Statements. Your canceled share drafts will not be returned to you; they will become Credit Union property and be held by us ("truncated") for you. Your monthly statement will itemize your canceled drafts by number, date of clearing and the amount of the draft. Any objection respecting any item shown on a periodic statement is waived unless made in writing to the Credit Union before the end of sixty (60) days after the statement is mailed. A copy of any share draft will be available to you as required by law. There may be a small fee to obtain a copy of a draft (see the Fee Schedule for a list of fees).

Suspension of Services. The Credit Union reserves the right to suspend the benefit of any credit union service at any time for reasonable cause. We also have the right to pay any check presented for payment from your account after your account is closed or suspended and we may proceed to collect any such amount paid from you.

OVERDRAFTS

Overdraft(s) – Discretionary Overdraft Privilege. The Credit Union is under no obligation to pay a share draft you have written, or notify you if it would result in the Share Draft Account being overdrawn (a draft written against your Share Draft Account when insufficient available funds are on deposit in the account is known as an NSF Share Draft), however, you agree to reimburse the Credit Union for funds advanced if the Credit Union does pay a share draft or other authorized transaction from your account(s), including any fee applicable for such an overdrawn account. You agree for yourself and the person or entity you represent if you sign as a representative of another, to the terms of this account and the schedule of charges. You authorize us to deduct these charges directly from your share draft account balance as accrued. You will pay any additional reasonable charges for services you request which are not covered by this agreement.

If this is a joint account (that is, if two or more people are parties to this account), all of the joint owners are jointly and severally liable to repay the Credit Union the amount of any overdraft and service charges, regardless which of the parties writes the draft that creates an overdraft and regardless of which party benefits from the overdraft. Each of you also agrees to be jointly and severally (individually) liable for any account shortage resulting from charges or overdrafts, whether caused by you or another with access to this account. This liability is due immediately, and can be deducted directly from the account balance whenever sufficient funds are available. You have no right to defer payment of this liability, and you are liable regardless of whether you signed the item or benefited from the charge or overdraft. This includes liability for our costs to collect the deficit including, to the extent permitted by law, our reasonable attorneys' fees.

Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union may pay overdrafts within the discretionary overdraft privilege limits, but payment by Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union is a discretionary courtesy and not a right or obligation. The limits on this discretionary overdraft service for consumer checking accounts are dynamic, meaning they can change daily based on specific account activity. Any and all fees charged, including without limitation the nonsufficient funds fees, will be included in the dynamic daily limit. You agree to hold the credit union harmless for any and all liability that may otherwise exist if an overdraft payment does not occur.

Overdraft and Non-Sufficient Funds Fees (NSF). We will charge you a fee each time a payment is made on this account and that payment is returned for Non-Sufficient Funds, and each time that same payment is presented for payment with non-sufficient funds available to cover the payment, regardless of who initiates the re-presentation. The payment could be initiated by us or by you, or by the financial institution on whom the payment is initiated. So, you could be charged multiple times a Non-Sufficient Funds Fee for the same check or payment, or that same item is re-negotiated with insufficient funds available to cover that check or payment. You should refer to our Fee Schedule for a list of fees.

Your Checking Account Balance. Your checking account has two kinds of balances: the "actual" balance and the "available" balance. Both can be checked when you review your account online, by phone, or at a branch. It is important to understand how the two balances work so that you know how much money is in your account at any given time. This section explains actual and available balances and how they work.

Your actual balance is the full amount of all deposits made into your account less payment transactions that have actually "posted" to your account. While the term "actual" may sound as though the number you see is an up-to-date display of what is in your account that you can spend, that is not always the case. It does not reflect checks you have written or payments you have authorized, or holds on deposits that have not yet posted. For example, if you have a $50.00 actual balance, but you just wrote a check for $40.00, then your actual balance is $50.00 but it does not reflect the pending check transaction. So at that point, you actually have $50, but you have already spent $40. Also, the actual balance does not include holds that may be placed on checks you deposit. (See the section below on How Transactions Are Posted To Your Account.) Thus, if you deposit a $1,000 check, your actual balance will increase by $1,000 but only $300 may be available for you to spend because there may be a hold on $700 for a period of time.

Your available balance is the amount of money in your account that is available to you to use without incurring an overdraft fee. The available balance takes into account things like holds placed on deposits and pending transactions (such as pending debit card purchases) that the Credit Union has authorized but that have not yet posted to your account. For example, assume you have an actual balance of $50 and an available balance of $50. If you were to use your debit card at a restaurant to buy lunch for $20, then that merchant could ask us to pre-authorize the payment. In that case, we will put a "hold" on your account for $20. Your actual balance would still be $50.00 because this transaction has not yet posted, but your available balance would be $30 because you have committed to pay the restaurant $20. When the restaurant submits its bill for payment (which could be a few days later), we will post the transaction to your account and your actual balance will be reduced by $20.

Available balance at the time a transaction posts to your account is used to determine when your account is overdrawn. The following example illustrates how this works:

Again, assume your actual and available balance are both $100, and you swipe your debit card at a restaurant for $60. A hold is placed on your account, so your available balance is only $40. Your actual balance is still $100. Before the restaurant charge is sent to us for processing, a check that you wrote for $50 clears. Because you have only $40 available (you have committed to pay the restaurant $60), your account will be overdrawn by $10, even though your actual balance is $100 at the time the check is presented. In this case, we may pay the $50 check, but you will be charged an overdraft fee (the fee is described in our Fee Schedule, which is updated periodically). That fee will be deducted from your account, further reducing the available and actual balances. If the $60 restaurant charge is then presented for payment, you will not be charged an additional fee because your available balance at the time the transaction was authorized was sufficient to cover the transaction, even though your available balance at the time the transaction is paid is not.

For most of your payment transactions—checks, ACH payments, ATM transactions, and some debit card PIN transactions (those made when you enter your PIN)—your available balance for purposes of determining an overdraft is measured at the time the transaction posts to your account. However, for debit card signature transactions, your available balance is measured at the time you present your card and at the time the transaction is presented to us for payment. In other words, if you have a $50 available balance, but you swipe your card for $60, then you will have a negative available balance at the time your card is presented to the merchant. If we authorize the payment, then you may be charged a fee, unless you make a deposit and your available balance is sufficient by the time the transaction is posted.

In other words, for debit card purchases to result in a courtesy pay fee, your available balance must be insufficient to cover the transaction at the time you present your card for a purchase and at the time the transaction is later posted to your account for payment. It is very important to understand that you may still overdraw your account even though the available balance appears to show there are sufficient funds to cover a transaction that you want to make. This is because your available balance may not reflect all the outstanding checks and automatic bill payments that you have authorized, or other outstanding transactions that have not been paid from your account. In the example above, the outstanding check will not be reflected in your available balance until it is presented to us and paid from your account.

In addition, your available balance may not reflect all of your debit card transactions. For example, if a merchant obtains our prior authorization but does not submit a one-time debit card transaction for payment within three (3) business days of authorization (or for up to thirty (30) business days for certain types of debit card transactions), we must release the authorization hold on the transaction. The available balance will not reflect this transaction once the hold has been released until the transaction has been received by us and paid from your account.

How Transactions Are Posted To Your Account. There are basically two types of transactions in your account: credits or deposits of money into your account, and debits or payments out of your account. It is important to understand how each is applied to your account so that you know how much money you have and how much is available to you at any given time. This section explains generally how and when we post transactions to your account.

Credits. Most deposits are added to your account when we receive them. Your actual balance will reflect the full amount of the deposit at the time the deposit is made. Depending on the type of check that is deposited, funds may not be available until the fifth business day after the day of the deposit. However, the first $300 of a deposit will be available on the day of the deposit. There may be extended holds on checks over $6,000.00. Thus, your available balance may not reflect the most recent deposits to your account. For details on the availability for withdrawal of your deposits, see our Availability of Funds Disclosure.

Debits. There are several types of debit transactions. Each type of debit transaction is described generally below. Keep in mind that there are many ways transactions are presented for payment by merchants, and the Credit Union is not necessarily in control of when transactions are received.

- Checks. When you write a check, it may be processed through the Federal Reserve System or by other electronic means. We receive data files of cashed checks from the Federal Reserve or other electronic means each day. The checks drawn on your account are compiled from these data files and paid each day. We process the payments in the order contained in the data file.
- ACH Payments. We receive data files every day from the Federal Reserve with Automated Clearing House or ACH transactions. These include, for example, automatic bill pays you have signed up for. Each day, ACH transactions for your account are paid as received.
- Point of Sale (POS) Debit Card Transactions. These are transactions where you use your debit card and you enter your PIN number at the time of the sale. They are similar to ATM withdrawals because money is usually deducted from your account immediately at the time of the transaction. However, some POS transactions are not presented for payment immediately; it depends on the merchant.
- Signature Debit Card Transactions. These are transactions where you make a purchase with your debit card and you do not enter your PIN but you are instead asked to sign for the purchase. As described above, in these situations, the merchant may seek prior authorization for the transaction. When that happens, we generally reduce the available balance in your account. We refer to this as an "authorization hold," and the amount of the authorization hold will be subtracted from your available balance. Authorizations are deducted from your available balance but not your actual balance as they are received by us throughout each day. At some point after you sign for the transaction, it is processed by the merchant and submitted to us for payment. This can happen hours or sometimes days after you signed for it, depending on the merchant and its processing company. These payment requests are received in real time throughout the day and are posted to your account as they are received. Please note: The amount of an authorization hold may differ from the actual payment because the final transaction amount may not yet be known to the merchant when the authorization request is submitted. For example, if you use your card at a restaurant, a hold will be placed in the amount of the bill presented to you, but when the transaction posts it will include any tip that you may have added to the bill. This may also be the case where you swipe your debit card at gas stations and hotels and other retail establishments. We cannot control how much a merchant asks us to authorize, or when a merchant submits a transaction for payment.

Order of Payments. We generally post items in the order received. Checks, drafts, transactions, and other items may not be processed in the order that you make them or in the order that we receive them. We may, at our discretion, pay a check, draft, or item, and execute other transactions on your account in any order we choose. The order in which we process checks, drafts, or items, and execute other transactions on your account may affect the total amount of overdraft fees that may be charged to your account. Please contact us if you have questions about how we pay checks or drafts and process transfers and withdrawals.

This is a general description of how certain types of transactions are posted. These practices may change and we reserve the right to pay items in any order we choose as permitted by law.

We may receive multiple deposit and withdrawal transactions on your account in many different forms throughout each business day. This means that you may be charged more than one fee if we pay multiple transactions when your account is overdrawn. The best way to know how much money you have and avoid paying overdraft fees is to record and track all of your transactions closely. IF YOU DO NOT UNDERSTAND THIS AGREEMENT OR HAVE ANY QUESTIONS, PLEASE CONTACT US AT (303) 424-5037.

STOP PAYMENTS

If a Stop Payment Order expires and the item is subsequently presented, the Credit Union has no liability for claims and damages resulting from the Credit Union honoring or paying the item. We do not have to notify you when a stop payment order expires.

Stop Payment Order Request. You may request a stop payment order on any item drawn on your account. To be binding, an order must be dated, signed, and describe the account and draft number and the exact amount. The stop payment will be effective if the Credit Union receives the order in time for the Credit Union to act upon the order and you state the number of the account, number of the draft, and its exact amount. You understand that the exact information is necessary for the Credit Union's computer to identify the item. If you give us incorrect or incomplete information, we will not be responsible for failing to stop payment on the item. If the stop payment order is not received in time for us to act upon the order, we will not be liable to you or to any other party for payment of the draft. If we re-credit your account after paying a draft over a valid and timely stop payment order, you agree to sign a statement describing the dispute with the payee, to transfer to us all of your rights against the payee or other holders of the draft, and to assist us in any legal action.

Automated Clearing House (ACH) Stop Payments. The credit union will not be responsible for stopping payment unless a request is received within a reasonable time for the credit union to act prior to final payment or other action or at least 3 business days before the schedule date of a preauthorized EFT. Credit Union's liability shall not, in any event exceed the amount of the Item described above. This Stop Payment Request is subject to the ACH rules. The Credit Union Member will reimburse the Credit Union for any loss it sustains in honoring this request. You agree to notify the Credit Union promptly upon issuance of any duplicate item, which replaces the item subject to this Stop Payment Request, or upon return of the original item.

ACH Stop payment orders include transfers for Electronic Check Conversion, Post-Dated Items, Recurring Preauthorized EFT & Single Preauthorized EFT transfers.

If an ACH Stop payment order is for recurring EFTs (all future EFTs), you understand that you must obtain written confirmation of the revocation from the Originating Company listed above within 14 days. If you do not provide this written confirmation to the Credit Union, you understand the Credit Union will honor subsequent debits. Preauthorized EFTs will never expire, unless you request a withdrawal of the request. If this stop payment order is for a Non-Clearing House check/draft, it will expire after 6 months unless renewed in writing.

If a verbal stop-payment order is accepted at the Credit Union and you fail to complete and submit this written request for the stop payment order within 14 days, the credit union's block on the payment shall be lifted and the credit union will issue payment to any payee(s).

An oral stop payment order ceases to be binding after 14 days if you fail to provide this written confirmation of the stop payment order.

Liability. Fees for stop payment orders are set forth on Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union Fee Schedule. You generally may NOT stop payment on any certified check, teller's check or any other check, draft, or payment guaranteed by us. Even if payment of such an item is stopped, you may remain liable to any item holder, including us. You agree to indemnify and hold the Credit Union harmless from all costs, including attorney's fees, damages or claims related to our refusing payment of an item, including claims of any multiple party, account owner, payee, or endorser in failing to stop payment of an item as a result of incorrect information you provided the Credit Union.

Payment of Checks after Death. The Credit Union may, after the date of your death, pay share drafts drawn before death unless ordered to stop payment by the Personal Representative or other appropriate person claiming an interest in the account.

OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Missing Endorsements. The Credit Union is authorized to supply any of your endorsements on any check or other instrument tendered for any account, and the Credit Union shall have no liability in connection with the collection of such items that are handled by it without negligence, and the credit union shall not be held liable for the acts of any agents, subagents or others. We may accept transfers, checks, drafts and other items for deposit into your account(s) if they are made payable or to the order of one or more account owners, even if they are not endorsed by all payees. Withdrawals may not be made on account of such items until collected, or as otherwise provided by law. Any amount not collected, or later returned, may be charged back to the account, including expense incurred, and any other outside expenses incurred relative to the account may be charged to it.

Convenience Signer/Agency Designation on an Account. A convenience signer or agency designation on an account is an instruction to us that the owner authorizes another person to make transactions as agent for the account owner regarding the accounts designated. An agent has no ownership interest in the account(s) or Credit Union voting rights. We have no duty to inquire about the use or purpose of any transaction made by the agent.

Share Insurance. Your savings in the Credit Union are insured up to $250,000 by the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), an agency of the Federal Government, in accordance with regulations promulgated by the NCUA. Retirement accounts, including IRA share accounts and traditional IRA certificates, are covered separately to $250,000 by NCUA. Generally, if a credit union member has more than one individual account in the same insured credit union, those accounts are added together and are insured up to $250,000. Shares maintained in different legal ownership capacities may each be separately insured. There are numerous combinations of accounts that can increase your total coverage. Contact a Member Service Representative to discuss ways to increase your total coverage.

Charges. You agree to pay us charges in connection with your accounts in accordance with our Fee Schedule for accounts in effect from time to time. We will provide advance notice of any increase in current charges, or any new charges, as required by law. We may deduct any charges owed by you from any of your accounts, whether you are an owner or joint owner. We reserve the right to waive any charges in our sole discretion.

Return of Deposits/Closed Accounts. We may, at any time, in our sole discretion, refuse to accept any deposit, or close any or all of your accounts with us without prior notice to you. Provided, however, we may not terminate your membership in the Credit Union without satisfying the notice provisions of Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union Bylaw Provisions and regulations. If we close an account, we will notify you and send you a check for any balance in your account after deducting all applicable charges. Any withdrawal that reduces the amount in an account to zero (other than a Checking Account) may automatically close that account. We are not liable for any check, withdrawal or other order after an account is closed. Any checks presented after your account has been closed will be returned unpaid. We reserve the right to advise consumer reporting agencies and other third parties of accounts closed for misuse.

Inactive Accounts. The Credit Union will consider your account inactive as defined by Colorado Statute with no deposits or withdrawals on your account. This excludes dividends credited to your account by the Credit Union. Colorado Law requires the Credit Union to turn these funds over to the State after a period of no activity as specified by statute. Before turning funds from inactive accounts over to the State of Colorado, the Credit Union will send notices as required by applicable state law advising you of your rights. See our Fee Schedule for dormant account fees.

Statement(s). If we send you a periodic statement for your Checking Account the statement(s) will include all activity on your account as required by law. You will receive a periodic statement for your Share Savings Account or other savings account(s), unless you have an electronic funds transfer transaction during a monthly period (in which case you will receive a monthly statement), or you will receive a combined statement on a monthly basis if you have a Checking Account and other savings accounts. Each such statement shall show the transactions on your accounts and any charges. We reserve the right not to send statements for accounts we consider inactive, or for those accounts on which we do not have a valid address on file. You should examine the periodic statement carefully and reconcile the account. If there are any discrepancies, the Credit Union should be notified immediately. You agree that the time you have to examine your statement and report to us will depend on the circumstances, but will not, in any circumstance, exceed a total of 60-days from when the statement is first sent or made available to you. You further agree to report any unauthorized signatures, alterations, forgeries, or any other errors in your account within 60 calendar days of when we first send or make the statement available. As between you and us, if you fail to perform these duties, you will have to either share the loss with us, or bear the loss entirely yourself (depending on whether we used ordinary care and, if not, whether we substantially contributed to the loss). The loss could be not only with respect to items on the statement but other items with unauthorized signatures or alterations by the same wrongdoer. You further agree that if you fail to report any unauthorized signatures, alterations or forgeries in your account within 60 days of when we first send or make the statement available, you cannot assert a claim against us on any items in that statement, and as between you and us the loss will be entirely yours. This 60 day limitation is without regard to whether we used ordinary care. The limitation in this paragraph is in addition to that contained in the first paragraph of this section. If you do not receive a periodic statement when you would normally receive one, you agree to notify us within fourteen (14) calendar days of the time you normally would have received a statement. The Credit Union will not be liable if items were forged or altered such that a reasonable financial institution could not detect the fraud.

Agreement. This Agreement shall be effective and shall govern all deposit accounts with us. By signing an application, making deposits or withdrawals, or leaving amounts on deposit, you agree to the terms of this Agreement. This Agreement shall supersede all previous agreements for such accounts.

Amendment. We may change any of the items of this Agreement at any time without prior notice to you if the change is favorable to you. We may make changes that are adverse to you only if we provide you with any notice required by law or required in this Agreement. You may close the account if you do not agree to the changes; if you continue to use the account or keep the account open after the effective date of such change, you will be deemed to have agreed to the changes.

Notice of Name or Address Changes. You are responsible for notifying us of any address or name change. Whenever we are required to send you notice, the Credit Union is only required to attempt to communicate with you at the most recent address you have provided to us in writing. The Credit Union requires all notices of change in address or name to be in writing.

Notice of Amendments. Except as prohibited by applicable law, we may change the terms of this Agreement. We will notify you of any changes in terms or rates as required by law or as required in this Agreement. All notices regarding the account will be posted in our office lobbies or will be sent to you to the address shown on your statement. In the event of joint ownership, notice by or to any one joint depositor shall be deemed notice by or to all. We reserve the right to waive any term in this Agreement. Any such waiver shall not affect our right to future enforcement. We reserve the right not to send notice for accounts we consider inactive. Notices to us should be sent to Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union, 6320 Wadsworth Blvd., Arvada, CO 80003.

Effect of Notice. Any written notice you give us is effective when we receive it. Any written notice we give to you is effective when it is deposited in the U.S. Mail, postage prepaid and addressed to you at your statement mailing address. Notice to any account owner is considered notice to all account owners.

Indemnity. If by following your instructions we are exposed to a claim or suit by an adverse claimant, you shall hold us harmless and indemnify us from any such losses, expenses, liabilities or damages including actual attorneys' fees. If you ask us to follow instructions that we believe might expose us to claims, suits, losses, expenses, liabilities or damages, whether directly or indirectly, we may refuse to follow your instructions, or we may require a bond or other protections.

Severability. If any of this Agreement is found by any other court or regulatory body of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unenforceable in whole or in part for any reason whatsoever, the authority of the remaining provisions or portions hereof shall not be affected thereby.

Waiver. We may waive any of these provisions at our sole discretion, but any such waiver will apply only on that occasion. If we chose to waive any provision, we will not be bound to waive the same provision or any other provision on another occasion.

Telephone Requests. You agree (for joint accounts, all joint owners agree jointly and severally) that funds in any of your accounts with us can be transferred upon the telephone request of any signer on the account. Other account transfer restrictions may be described elsewhere. We shall not be responsible for any loss incurred as a result of our acting upon or executing any request, order or instruction we believe to be genuine. Furthermore, we may refuse to execute any telephone request or order.

Facsimile Signatures. You agree (for joint accounts, all joint owners agree jointly and severally) that the Credit Union may accept and rely on facsimiles of your signature(s) on any deposit or withdrawal form, order or other notices, requests or instructions regarding any account under this Agreement or with the Credit Union provided they resemble the facsimile signature specimen filed with us, and contain the required number of signatures for this purpose. We shall not be responsible for any loss incurred as a result of our acting upon or executing any request, order or instruction we believe to be genuine. Furthermore, we may refuse to execute any facsimile request or order.

Information About Your Accounts and About You. Generally, we will not disclose information to third parties about your accounts or about you without your permission. However, we may disclose information: (1) when it is necessary to complete transfers or transactions, or to send notice of dishonor or nonpayment; (2) to our accountants, attorneys or other professional advisors; (3) to Credit Union or financial institution regulators; (4) to exchange, in the regular course of business, credit information with other financial institutions or commercial enterprises, directly or through credit reporting agencies; (5) to advise third parties of accounts closed for misuse; (6) to furnish information to the appropriate law enforcement authorities when we believe we have been a victim of a crime; (7) to comply with government agency or court orders, or to furnish any information required by statute; (8) to furnish information about the existence of an account to a judgment creditor of yours who has made a written request for such information; (9) when we are attempting to collect an obligation owed to us; or (10) unless otherwise prohibited by law. In addition, you understand and agree that we may, from time to time, request and review credit reports and other information about you prepared by credit reporting agencies or others. For additional information about how we share your information with third parties, please refer to the Credit Union's Privacy Notice.

Legal Process. If any legal action is brought against your account, we may pay out funds according to the terms of the action or refuse any pay out until the dispute is resolved. Any expenses we incur responding to legal process, including but not limited to responding to garnishments, attachments or levies on your account(s), may be charged against your account without notice, unless prohibited by law. Any legal process against your account is subject to our priority lien and security interest. Any legal process against your account may also be subject to a fee from this Credit Union according to our Fee Schedule.

Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by the laws, including applicable principles of contract law, and regulations of the State of Colorado, as applicable, except as superseded by federal laws and regulations, by the Credit Union's Bylaws, and by local clearinghouse rules. Unless prohibited by applicable law, any action brought pursuant to this Agreement against the Credit Union must be brought in the local State District Court or State Circuit Court in the jurisdiction of the Credit Union's main office or branch offices.

Right to Repay Loans without Penalty. Unless any loan agreement otherwise specifies, you have a right to repay any loan at any time in advance or in-full without penalty.

Taxpayer Identification Numbers and Backup Withholding. Your failure to furnish a correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) or meet other requirements may result in backup withholding. If your account is subject to backup withholding, we must withhold and pay to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) a percentage of dividends, interest and certain other payments. If you fail to provide your TIN, we may suspend opening your account.

Special Account Instructions. You may request that we facilitate certain business, trust, will, or court-ordered account arrangements. However, because we do not give legal advice, we cannot counsel you as to which account arrangement most appropriately meets the specific requirements of your business, trust, will, or court order. If you ask us to follow any instructions that we believe might expose us to claims, lawsuits, expenses, liabilities, or damages, whether directly or indirectly, we may refuse to follow your instructions or may require you to indemnify us or post a bond or other protection. Account changes requested by you, or any account owner, such as adding or closing an account or service, must be evidenced by a signed Account Change form and accepted by us.

Termination of Account. We may terminate your account at any time without notice to you, or we may require you to close your account and apply for a new account if: (1) there is a change in owners or authorized signers; (2) there has been a forgery or fraud reported or committed involving your account; (3) there is a dispute as to the ownership of the account or of the funds in the account; (4) any share drafts are lost or stolen; (5) there are excessive returned unpaid items not covered by an overdraft protection plan; (6) there has been any misrepresentation or any other abuse of any of your accounts; or (7) we reasonably deem it necessary to prevent a loss to us. You may terminate a single party account by giving written notice. We reserve the right to require written consent of all owners for any change or to terminate account. If we receive written notice of a dispute between owners or inconsistent instructions from them, we may suspend or terminate the account and require a court order or written consent from all owners to act. We are not responsible for payment of any draft, withdrawal, or other item after your account is terminated, however, if we pay an item after termination, you agree to reimburse us.

Termination of Membership. You may terminate your membership by giving us notice. You may be denied services or expelled for any reason allowed by applicable law, including causing a loss to the Credit Union. Termination of your membership does not relieve you from any legal obligation created while you were a member of this Credit Union. Account Agreement. Your application for Membership in the Credit Union as well as your use of any Credit Union Membership privileges constitutes acknowledgement and consent to the terms and conditions of your accounts as set forth in this Account Agreement and all other accompanying Disclosures provided to you.

Pledges. Subject to the Credit Union's priority lien in any deposits and unless we agree otherwise in writing, each owner of an account may pledge all or any part of the funds in it for any purpose to which we agree. The Credit Union's lien on any deposit and any pledge of an account must first be satisfied before the rights of any surviving account owner or account beneficiary become effective.

Right to Bring Civil Action. Colorado Statutes provide you with certain rights as a consumer and you have a right to bring a civil action against any person violating the consumer rights set forth by statute governing consumer privacy and unauthorized withdrawals. You may also be entitled under the law to damages, court costs and reasonable attorney fees.

Lien & Right of Offset/Enforcement. If you owe us money as a borrower, guarantor, endorser or otherwise, you agree that you have granted us a consensual lien, and acknowledge that we have a statutory lien on the account funds in any account in which you have an ownership interest, regardless of their source, unless prohibited by law. We may apply these funds in any order to pay off your indebtedness. By not enforcing a lien, we do not waive our right to enforce it later. In addition, you grant the Credit Union a consensual security interest in your accounts and we may use the funds from your accounts to pay any debt or amount now or hereafter owed the Credit Union, or for any loss, cost or expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, not exceeding 15% of the unpaid balance owing after termination or acceleration of your account that is referred to an attorney who is not a salaried employee of this Credit Union, that we incur as a result of your failure to comply with the terms and conditions of this Agreement or that we may take to enforce this Agreement or any other Agreement you may enter into with us. The lien you grant us for money you owe us as a borrower in accordance with the Lien & Right of Offset/Enforcement provision herein survives your death and any Payable-On-Death (POD) beneficiary takes subject to that lien, meaning we may offset any amount you owe us upon your death from your depository accounts prior to disbursing the remaining amount, if any, to properly designated POD/Trust Account beneficiaries. This security interest is not applicable to obligations secured by your residence, or unless otherwise may be prohibited by applicable law. We will notify you if we have exercised our right of offset. All accounts are non-assignable and nontransferable to third parties.

Denial Of Services. Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union offers its services to only those members who have not caused the credit union a financial loss or otherwise abused the rights, privileges, benefits of credit union membership and/or have not been abusive verbally or physically to staff or in front of members. This Credit Union reserves the right for the denial of services if a member causes the credit union financial loss, abuses the rights, privileges, benefits of credit union membership and/or is abusive verbally or physically to staff or in front of members.

Inquiries. The Credit Union may make any inquiry it considers appropriate for the purpose of evaluating your account. This may include ordering a credit report. You authorize the Credit Union to perform a credit check or obtain a credit report at any time.

Statements – Your duty to report unauthorized signatures, alterations and forgeries. You must examine your statement of account with "reasonable promptness." If you discover (or reasonably should have discovered) any unauthorized signatures or alterations, you must promptly notify us of the relevant facts. As between you and us, if you fail to do either of these duties, you will have to either share the loss with us, or bear the loss entirely yourself (depending on whether we used ordinary care and, if not, whether we substantially contributed to the loss). The loss could be not only with respect to items on the statement but other items with unauthorized signatures or alterations by the same wrongdoer. You agree that the time you have to examine your statement and report to us will depend on the circumstances, but will not, in any circumstance, exceed a total of 30 days from when the statement is first sent or made available to you. You further agree that if you fail to report any unauthorized signatures, alterations or forgeries in your account within 60 days of when we first send or make the statement available, you cannot assert a claim against us on any items in that statement, and as between you and us the loss will be entirely yours. This 60-day limitation is without regard to whether we used ordinary care. The limitation in this paragraph is in addition to that contained in the first paragraph of this section.

Your duty to report other errors. In addition to your duty to review your statements for unauthorized signatures, alterations and forgeries, you agree to examine your statement with reasonable promptness for any other error – such as an encoding error. You agree that the time you have to examine your statement and report to us will depend on the circumstances. However, such time period shall not exceed 60 days. Failure to examine your statement and report any such errors to us within 60 days of when we first send or make the statement available precludes you from asserting a claim against us for any such errors on items identified in that statement and as between you and us the loss will be entirely yours.

Account Transfer. This account may not be transferred or assigned without our prior written consent.

Direct Deposits. If, in connection with a direct deposit plan, we deposit any amount in an account which should have been returned to the Federal Government for any reason, you authorize us to deduct the amount of our liability to the Federal Government from the account or from any other account you have with us, without prior notice and at any time, except as prohibited by law. We may also use any other legal remedy to recover the amount of our liability.

Right To Repayment Of Indebtedness. You each agree that we may (without prior notice and when permitted by law) charge against and deduct from this account any due and payable debt owed to us now or in the future, by any of you having the right of withdrawal, to the extent of such persons' or legal entity's right to withdraw. If the debt arises from a note, "any due and payable debt" includes the total amount of which we are entitled to demand payment under the terms of the note at the time we charge the account, including any balance the due date for which we properly accelerate under the note. In addition to these contract rights, we may also have rights under a "statutory lien." A "lien" on property is a creditor's right to obtain ownership of the property in the event a debtor defaults on a debt. A "statutory lien" is one created by federal or state statute. If federal or state law provides us with a statutory lien, then we are authorized to apply, without prior notice, your shares and dividends to any debt you owe us, in accord with the statutory lien. Neither our contract rights nor rights under a statutory lien apply to this account if prohibited by law. For example, neither our contract rights nor rights under a statutory lien apply to this account if: (a) it is an Individual Retirement Account or similar tax-deferred account, or (b) the debt is created by a consumer credit transaction under a credit card plan (but this does not affect our rights under any consensual security interest), or (c) the debtor's right of withdrawal arises only in a representative capacity. We will not be liable for the dishonor of any check or draft when the dishonor occurs because we charge and deduct an amount you owe us from your account. You agree to hold us harmless from any claim arising as a result of our exercise of our right to repayment.

Authorized Signer (Individual Accounts only). A single individual is the owner. The authorized signer is merely designated to conduct transactions on the owner's behalf. We undertake no obligation to monitor transactions to determine that they are on the owner's behalf.

Restrictive Legends. We are not required to honor any restrictive legend on checks you write unless we have agreed in writing to the restriction. Examples of restrictive legends are "must be presented within 90 days" or "not valid for more than $1,000.00."

Check Processing. We may process items mechanically by relying on the information encoded along the bottom of the items. This means that we may not individually examine all of your items to determine if the item is properly completed, signed and indorsed. You agree that we have not failed to exercise ordinary care solely because we use an automated system to process items and do not inspect all items process in such a manner. We reserve the right not to inspect each item because using an automated process helps us keep costs down for you and all account holders. We may determine the amount of available funds in your account for the purpose of deciding whether to return an item for insufficient funds at any time between the time we receive the item and when we return the item or send a notice in lieu of return. We need only make one determination, but if we choose to make a subsequent determination, the account balance at the subsequent time will determine whether there are insufficient available funds.

Check Cashing. We may charge a fee for anyone that does not have an account with us who is cashing a check, draft or other instrument written on your account. We may also require reasonable identification to cash such a check, draft or other instrument. We can decide what identification is reasonable under the circumstances and such identification may be documentary or physical and may include collecting a thumbprint or fingerprint.

ACH & Wire Transfers. This agreement is subject to Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code – Fund Transfers as adopted in the state in which you have your account with us. If you originate a fund transfer for which Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code is used, and you identify by name and number a beneficiary financial institution, an intermediary financial institution or a beneficiary, we and every receiving or beneficiary financial institution may rely on the identifying number to make payment. We may rely on the number even if it identifies a financial institution, person or account other than the one named. You agree to be bound by automated clearing house association rules. These rules provide, among other things, that payments made to you, or originated by you, are provisional until final settlement is made through a Federal Reserve Bank or payment is otherwise made as provided in Article 4A-403(a) of the Uniform Commercial Code. If we do not receive such payment, we are entitled to a refund from you in the amount credited to your account and the party originating such payment will not be considered to have paid the amount so credited. If we receive a payment order to credit an account you have with us by wire or ACH, we are not required to give you any notice of the payment order or credit. "Remittance Transfers" are commonly known as "international wires," "international money transfers," or "remittances." Federal law defines remittance transfers to include most electronic money transfers of more than $15.00 sent by consumers in the United States through "remittance transfer providers" to recipients in other countries. For transfers covered by this law, information must be given in writing before the consumer pays for the transfer. Consumers generally will receive information before they pay for money transfers to other countries. This information is free. Consumers are not required to complete the transfer when they receive this information. They can choose to go ahead and send the money, or use the information to compare costs.

Statements. All ACH, ATM, Check Card, or Telephone transactions will be reported with your regular account activity on a statement mailed to your address on record. Please inform the Credit Union of any change to your mailing address.

If you have an active Checking Account, you will automatically receive a statement each month there is activity in your account. If there is no activity in your account, you will receive quarterly statements. If you would like a statement prior to the time one is normally furnished, you may request a printout of your account history. The charge for this special printout service is listed on our fee schedule.

Communications. You agree that we may communicate with you by mail, telephone, email, fax, prerecorded message, automated voice, text message or other means allowed by law regarding your Account. You agree that we may contact you at any telephone number (including a mobile telephone number that you provide us), and use an automated telephone dialing system or similar device to do so. You agree that we may monitor or record any conversation or other communication with you.

Notice of Name or Address Changes. You are responsible for notifying us of any address or name change. Whenever we are required to send you notice, the Credit Union is only required to attempt to communicate with you at the most recent address you have provided to us in writing. The Credit Union requires all notices of change in address or name to be in writing.

Unlawful Internet Gambling Notice. Restricted transactions as defined in Federal Reserve Regulation GG are prohibited from being processed through this account or relationship. Restricted transactions generally include, but are not limited to, those in which credit, checks, or drafts are knowingly accepted by gambling businesses in connection with the participation by others in unlawful Internet gambling.

USA PATRIOT ACT

In accordance with the USA PATRIOT ACT, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each individual or entity opening an account. This includes all personal and commercial accounts including loan and deposit accounts, as well as trust, brokerage, insurance, and investment management accounts.

What This Means To Our Members

When you open an account, you will be asked for your name, address, social security or tax identification number, date of birth (if applicable) and other information that will allow Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union to identify you. You will also be asked to furnish your drivers license or other identifying documents. We are required to follow this procedure each time an account is opened, even if you are a current member of Fidelis Catholic Federal Credit Union.
